Youths Take Guns, Ammunition From San Francisco Store

Daly City and San Francisco police are on the lookout this week for two armed young men who reportedly held up the Micro Sight Company, 5813 Mission street, last week, making off with two guns and several boxes of ammunition.

The burglary was perpetrated Monday night, according to M. H. Galloway, a company employee. Galloway said when he entered the establishment (owned by George Thannisch) in the evening, two boys sprang from behind the counter, brandishing a .45 automatic.

Menacing their observer with the gun, police said, they escaped with 30 rounds of .38 special ammunition; 200 rounds of .45 automatic ammunition, and two guns.

Norwegian Visitors At Heggelund Home Praise Daly City

Every so often a visitor in Daly City pays tribute to our town with complimentary remarks on its appearance and its citizenry.

Last month, the community was doubly complimented by two natives of Norway who, after traveling over two continents, have nothing but praise for Daly City and its people.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Frostad of Oslo, who arrived in San Francisco December 19 for an extended visit with Frostad's sister and brother-in-law, the O. Heggelunds, say it is one of the friendliest towns they have seen.

The Frostads' visit marks the first time in 38 years that Mrs. Heggelund and her brother have seen each other. Frostad, an accomplished musician, has been a member of the Norway Royal Army band for 50 years, and plays with the Oslo Philharmonic.

Highlights in his career included playing under the baton of Edward Grieg and under Pierre Monteux, as a guest conductor.

Except for extreme sea-sickness during the first part of their five-week ocean journey, which took them through the Panama Canal, the visiting Norwegians enjoyed immensely their trip and the sightseeing it afforded. Conditions in Norway are improving, they report, although everything still is rationed.

The Frostads will remain in this community through the winter months, before going on through Redwood City, San Diego, Portland, Seattle and up into Canada on their return. They expect to remain in the country for about ten months.

Most impressive sight in all their travels, the Frostads claim enthusiastically, is the view of the great metropolis of the Golden Gate from the top of Twin Peaks.

Historical Group Gets Citation

The San Mateo County Historical Association has been honored by a national citation for its part in achieving the preservation of the Sanchez Adobe. The old coast-side building was purchased by the county at the request of the Historical Association, to be repaired and preserved as an historic monument after a centennial celebration held at the Adobe a little over a year ago.

Notice of this national recognition was received by Dr. Frank M. Stanner, executive secretary of the San Mateo County Historical Association.

It comes in the form of a citation of honorable mention by the American Association for State and Local History, voted at its annual meeting in Denver, Colorado, September 1-7, official notice of which has just been received from Albert B. Corey, chairman of the committee on awards of the national organization, Albany, New York.

Text of the citation reads as follows: "Honorable Mention, American Association for State and Local History, to the San Mateo County Historical Association, San Mateo, California; for their part in obtaining the preservation of the Francisco Sanchez Adobe through their study program of historic structures and the centennial of the adobe's construction, held October 12, 1946, which included a Merriend."

This national organization carries on various activities to promote interest in state and local history, including the publication of bulletins and a quarterly magazine, "American Heritage."

Information on which the local citation of honorable mention was based was furnished by San Mateo public library in response to an inquiry by the national committee on awards.

Perpetual Help Mothers To Convene Tomorrow

First meeting of the new year for the Mothers, Club of the PERpetual Help School will be held at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the school library.

HOLIDAY TRAFFIC FINES LOWER THAN AVERAGE

Twenty-four fines for exceeding the speed limits were levied during Christmas and New Year weeks in Daly City municipal court. Total number of traffic fines was low for the holiday average.

Judge William J. Sweeney assessed these violators for speeding fines:

Thomas Neal, fined $7.50; Earl Anderson, $5; Frank Blauert, $2.50; Barton Bridgeford, $2.50; Calvin Brown, $10; George Brown, $7.50; Albert Dulik, $7.50; Fern Ellis, $5; George Gann, $5; Charles Ghilardi, $2.50; James Harvey, $5; William Hassett, $5; Jeannie Kump, $2.50; Angelo Lamperti, $5; Duane Allison, $7.50; Albert Assad, $7.50; Mardel Bickel, $7.50; Robert Healy, $5; Marie Johnson, $7.50; Hendry Thomas, $2.50; Charles Hill, $5; John Koski, $5; Chester Kiesel, $5, and Gordon Sullivan, $7.50.

These persons paid $1.50 each for parking violations:

Lee Castro, Alfred Leotta, Walter Mille, Marion McKaskle, N. L. Reagan, Ray Willoughby, John Carter, Charles Safford and Norman Banfield. Miller and Thomas Co. paid a fine of $2.50 for parking on the sidewalk, and Paul Sapanich was fined $1 for overtime parking.

Fines of $2.50 each were levied against these signal violators:

Edward Weitzel, Isaac Comstock, Roy Domattei, Alex Gasparotto, Jack Hamilton, Steve Ray and Louise Smith.

Violators of hill-holding regulations were:

James Cortes, fined $2.50; Clarence Rosburg, $5; Joe Woodard, $2; Robert Rice, $5; John Cash, $2.50, and James Vail, $2.50.

Other, miscellaneous fines included:

William Bradshaw, driving through arterial stop sign, $2; Charles Cook, driving with pedestrian in crosswalk, $2.50; and Gilbert Garcia, no chauffeur's license and backing up without due caution, $7.50.

Veterans Asked To Give Advance Bid For Hospitalization

Veterans needing hospitalization or domiciliary care were warned today by Floyd D. Granger, veterans service officer, to make advance arrangements for admission to either state or federal veterans' facilities to avoid the possibility of being turned away because of lack of accommodations.

Granger was advised that numerous veterans have had to be turned down at the California Veterans Home at Yountville after making the trip to the home at considerable expense to themselves.

According to Colonel M. Holderman, commandant, the state home now has a waiting list of more than 200 eligible veterans and approximately three months may be required for admission.

Complete information and assistance regarding hospitalization or domiciliary care in veterans' facilities may be obtained at the Veterans Service Office located at San Mateo County Courthouse, Redwood City.

Another matter to which the service officer calls attention is that income tax refunds are being made to next of kin of men who died while on active duty during World War II. Public Law 367 of the 80th Congress provides that income tax for those dying in service between December 7, 1941, and January 1, 1948, shall not be assessed for the taxable year of death or for previous years in service during that period. In addition the new law sets forth that if taxes were paid by a serviceman between the two dates mentioned, the next of kin may file for refund. Filing must be done before January 1, 1949.

Heretofore income taxes for years of war service prior to death were forgiven if not paid, but if paid, could not be refunded to next of kin, Granger explained.

Provision also was made under the act of the 1947 Legislature for refund of state income tax paid during period September 16, 1940, to the termination of the war by servicemen who died during war service. For purposes of the state act, termination of the war has not yet been determined.

Facilities of the veterans service office located in the courthouse, Redwood City, are available free of charge to veterans and their families for filing for benefits to which they may be entitled under federal or state laws.

Druids Will Sponsor Whist Party Next Month

Another whist party in the seemingly endless chain has been announced by the Olive Grove chapter of the United Ancient Order of Druids.

The party is to be held Friday, February 6, in the Holy Angels hall at Colma.

The first division to be brought up to its authorized strength since the end of the war is the 82nd Airborne Division, which is now being retrained at Fort Bragg, North Carolina. The division's new strength will be approximately 16,000 men, the number allotted under the new airborne and infantry division unit reorganization plan.

About 17 percent of the total strength of the division will be made up of Negro troops, forming five combat units, including one airborne infantry battalion, one field artillery (155 mm. howitzer) battalion, one anti-aircraft artillery battalion, and one tank battalion. The 28th Infantry at Fort Benning, Georgia, One service unit composed of Negro troops, the Quartermaster Field Service Company, will be at Fort Bragg.

MORAL TRAINING: Following General Jacob L. Devers' principle that "There must be positive integration of military and moral training during the recruit's period of adjustment to Army life," the Chaplain's School at Carlisle Barracks, Pennsylvania, has begun publication of a weekly magazine known as "The Chaplain's Hour". The magazine contains material for non-sectarian lectures on citizenship and morality to be used as a guide for chaplains giving lectures to new recruits assigned to the training divisions throughout the United States.

IN MEMORY: The New Orleans Port of Embarkation and 29 Transportation Corps ships recently have been renamed in honor of Congressional Medal of Honor Winners who lost their lives during the last war. The New Orleans POE, through which thousands of troops embarked for combat duty, has been renamed Camp LeMay Johnson in honor of a fallen hero from Oakdale, Louisiana, who sacrificed his life to save his comrades during fighting on Leyte in December 1944.

THIRD ARMORED: All veterans who served honorably in the Third Armored "Spearhead" Division, created with being the first American unit to capture a German town and pierce the Siegfried Line, are eligible for membership in the newly formed division association. The association will hold its first reunion in Chicago, April 8th and 10th. The organization's secretary, Colonel L. L. Dean, can be reached by letter at Fort Monroe, Virginia.

Holy Name Society To Hold Annual Day Of Recollection

The Holy Name Society of Our Lady of Perpetual Help church will hold its first annual Day of Recollection next Sunday in the church.

The day will begin with eight o'clock mass and will close with benediction and renewal of the Holy Name pledge.

Services will be conducted by the Rev. Parnell McCarthy of the Diocesan Missionaries. All men of the parish have been invited to attend.

The Rev. William C. Stewart will head the arrangement committee, assisted by President George Lombard, Joseph Powers, E. Wille, Bob Lucier, Thomas Whalen, Roy Thompson, William Whalen, Charles Barbara, Robert White and Fred Klingler.

Labor Council May Have Solution To Tractor Feud

The San Mateo County Central Labor Council came up last week with a possible solution to the feud between Frederick Peterson, county executive, and the board of supervisors over the fate of the county relief home's garden tractor.

The council declared its determination that the tractor shall remain at the home for the purpose of gardening. Councilmen said they intended either to purchase the tractor for donation to the relief home, or to urge the board to pay $650 in back rent for which the county executive now is being sued.

Argument over the tractor has been raging between Frederick Peterson and Alvin S. Hatch, chairman of the board, who opposes maintenance of the tractor because he thinks gardening at the relief home competes with roadside truck gardens.

2 Million In State Support For County Schools This Year

A total of $2,973,827 in state support for the current school year is being received by the San Mateo County public system, as compared to $1,688,149 for fiscal 1946-47, according to the California Taxpayers' Association.

The county's state support for this year includes $2,043,685 for elementary districts, and $930,142 for secondary. Average daily attendance base for the year's apportionment is 17,758 for elementary districts, and 3,318 for secondary.

Apportionment for public school districts is out of a fund made up of $120 per pupil in average daily attendance, as compared with an $80 allocation for elementary schools last year, and $90 per pupil allocation for secondary.

Lions Club Gets Autographed Gavel From Washington

A chairman's gavel autographed by Joe Martin, speaker of the House of Representatives, and by Jack Anderson, representative from this district, was presented to the Daly City-Colma Lions Club yesterday at a meeting in Estrada's Spanish Kitchen.

The gavel was a souvenir sent to the club by Anderson. Constant chuckling and now and then a hearty guffaw echoed through the restaurant meeting place, as Hugo Vindal, guest speaker, told humorous stories of army life in England.

The speaker, manager of the education department of Beck and Hollister business and industrial engineering company, recounted his own experiences as a liaison officer between the Red Cross, the United States Army and the British Ministry during the war.

The speaker was introduced by Edward Devenenzi.

$11 Worth of Stepping Stones Cost Man $36

Herbert A. Leaf, 635 Manila way, Broadmor Village, was fined $25 in municipal court December 26 on conviction of a petty theft charge.

Leaf pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing 22 colored stepping stones from the California Seed and Nursery company. Complaint was signed by J. S. Blood, proprietor of the nursery.

Leaf paid $11 — value of the stepping stones — to Blood, as well as the fine.

Husband, Wife Die In Murder, Suicide

The remains of a husband and wife were found in Olivet Memorial Park last Friday — marking a finish to a series of tragic events which hung over a Daly City household during the fateful hours of December 29.

Only a small number of observers entered the chapel of the W. C. Lasswell Mortuary to mourn the deaths of Harold and Edna Udry, to whom death came violently, in the same room, on the same day, and from the same weapon.

An accounting of the Udry's tragic endings was contained in two notes written by the wife to her step-sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson, of Glen Ellen, Sonoma county. The story was one of crazed anger, of violence and resultant fear — and of death.

At about 3 a. m. on the morning of Monday, December 29, Edna Udry, crazed with the tempest of an hour-long quarrel, shot to death her 40-year-old husband with a .765 German automatic.

Through the hours until dawn she remained in their Alexander street home, contemplating her act and fearing she was insane. It was apparently during these hours that she mapped her next actions. She wrote a letter to her step-sister, confessing the crime and revealing her plan.

"I've done something terrible. In a fit of anger I shot Harold. I guess I'm not really sane. I haven't been for some time. I'll be better off dead."

Filling two suitcases with clothing, she tucked the notes into one of them and telephoned a friend, Mrs. A. Skinner, arranging to meet her in front of a housing unit on Geneva avenue at 9:30 a. m. Mrs. Skinner was asked to deliver them to Mrs. Johnson — and cautioned that they were not to be opened until night time.

Mrs. Johnson opened the luggage upon receipt, and finding the note, raced to Daly City with Walter Udry, father of the murdered man. Udry broke down a door to his son's home.

Daly City police found the dead couple as Udry had found them — both dead, with bullets through their temples, in their bedroom.

Harold Udry's body lay on the bed, his wife kneeling beside it. At 5:04 p. m., he had been dead for 14 hours; she for two. Rigor mortis had set in on his body.

Car Thief Defies Police — Steals Car From Under Noses

It would have to be a brazen thief who would steal a car and drive it off-right under the noses of the police.

That's what happened last Saturday to a car owned by Thomas C. Pagni, 12 Farragut street, which disappeared from its parking place in front of the Daly City Police Department.

An all-point bulletin was sent out by the harassed officers.

An apparently unsuccessful attempt at robbery was discovered December 31 at the Daly City Creamery.

Police said that during the night of December 30, trespassers had broken into the restaurant through a south window, but took nothing.

County Employees To Get 6 Per Cent Blanket Increase

A blanket six per cent increase in county employees' salaries was endorsed last week by the San Mateo Board of Supervisors.

The wage boost, retroactive to January 1, will affect the salaries of some 730 employees, according to Personnel Director Russell J. Cooney.

Electric and per diem workers such as those employed by the road department will be excluded from the pay raise, he said. Road workers and the like are paid on an hourly basis depending on the prevailing union scale.

According to estimated figures released by the civil service commission, which recommended the raise proposal to the board, some $60,000 would be involved in the increase to classified workers. An additional 30 unclassified workers included in the pay boost by the board, would receive approximately $6,000.

The 1947-48 budget, including all funds paid out, was $2,032,350 before the pay increase. Cooney said that the commission had consulted cost of living figures issued by the bureau of labor statistics before recommending the raise. Salaries in other county governments and private industry in the Bay Area also were consulted.

Mechanics of the wage boost will move up the pay range of all employees involved, Cooney said.

Dr. Harold Marks Appointed To Succeed Dr. Gans

Dr. Harold Marks, Community hospital superintendent, last week was named temporary head of the county health department to replace Dr. Charles C. Gans, who retired Saturday.

The appointment, made by Frederick Peterson, county executive, was in exception to Gans' choice. The retiring health officer wanted Dr. Joseph O. Greenwell, Canyon Sanatorium superintendent, to take his place.

Gans, who will be 70 years old February 2, has accepted the job of health consultant for Santa Cruz county. So far, according to the civil service commission, almost 50 applications for his $12,000 a year job have been received. Deadline for filing applications is January 15.

Critical Shortage In Seal Sale Funds May Halt X-Rays

Final efforts to save the 1948 free X-ray program for San Mateo county children will hinge upon belated returns in the 1947 Tuberculosis Christmas seal sale drive, it was declared today by the county tuberculosis and health association.

Leaders in the sales drive said that the association's program committee will meet within a few days and that fate of the child X-ray phase of the association's work will depend upon funds at hand for the year's activities.

Slow response of the public in remitting for the Christmas seals has endangered the local fight against tuberculosis for the first time in many years, they reported, and will principally force reduction in X-ray clinical work for school children, which constitutes one of the most expensive operations of the association.

They said that returns are still far from reaching the $37,500 quota set for the annual seal sale and that reminder letters are to be placed in the mail for all those persons who overlooked or neglected making their annual contributions.

Money obtained from the traditional Christmas seal sale is the sole means of support for the association which has faced heavily increased expenditures through its work for veterans stricken with tuberculosis and in the expanded case-finding operations of the mobile X-ray laboratory placed in service last year.

The drive aides are asking that all persons who have not made contributions do so at once. They said the quota can still be reached if remittances are received within the next three days. Post dated checks will be acceptable.

Parents Invited To Hear Lecture On Tuberculosis

An invitation has been extended by the Crocker Parent Teacher Association to all parents and P.T.A. members in Daly City and Colma to hear Dr. Charles Herrod, head of the communicable diseases division of the county health department, in an address next Tuesday.

Dr. Herrod will speak on tuberculosis and show films on the disease at Jefferson High school next Tuesday at 2 p. m.

In a noon competition on the local field, Funston Cavern will play the Scotty's Radio nine.

The city team will take on the Eagles at 2 p. m.

New Community Church Gets Equipment For Sunday School

The Ocean View Community church, newly organized affiliate of the Congregational Christian churches, has invited all members of its community to attend a roll call and observance of the Lord's Supper this Sunday.

The Rev. J. H. Bennett, pastor, has announced the acquisition of new equipment for the Sunday school. The church Men's Fellowship has started work on renovating the buildings until such time as erection of a new parish is possible.

TAX CONSULTANT TO BE AVAILABLE HERE JAN. 12-14

Taxpayers of Daly City and Colma will be given an opportunity to obtain assistance and advice in the preparation of their income tax returns when Deputy E. A. Armenio opens his office in this district.

Deputy Armenio is scheduled to be at the following places on the days and between the hours shown:

Colma — January 12, 10 a. m. to 3 p. m., Bank of America.

Daly City — January 13 and 14, 10 a. m. to 3 p. m., Bank of America.

Free Clinic For Animal Pets Here Next Week

A free animal clinic for examination and vaccination of animal pets will be held next week in the Colma Fire House at Market street and First avenue, Colma.

Sponsored by the San Mateo County Department of Public Health and Welfare, the clinic will be directed by Dr. John T. Morris, V.D.M. of the White and Morris Dog Hospital of San Bruno.

Clinic hours will be 9 a. m. - 6 p. m. daily, Monday, January 12 through Saturday, January 17, and 9 a. m. - 12 m., Sunday, January 18.

Eagles Whist Game Set For Monday

The first in a series of whist games to be sponsored by the Colma-Vista Grande Aerie of Eagles will be held Monday in the new Eagles hall on Santa Barbara avenue.

Announcement of the game schedule was made yesterday by George Wheeler, chairman of the series. Wheeler said that he and his seven assistants had made tentative plans for a monthly series of games slated for each second Monday.

Members and non-members alike may play.

County Telephone Employees Build Blood Reserve

Credits are being built up at the San Mateo County Blood Bank by employees of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company.

The reserve credits held for the employees of this organization had serious inroads made on them during recent months when several employees and their family members of employees drew on the blood bank in order that emergency blood transfusions could be given.

In recent days the following PT&T employees became donors at the county bank:

Mrs. Florence Halterman, Burlingame; Guy Whetum, Hugo Buis and Oscar H. Epling, Palo Alto; Richard E. Chaney, Mountain View; Don R. Clarke, Cupertino; Mrs. Cecelia Smith and Mrs. Mildred Lambert, South San Francisco; Charles Boyd, Sunnyvale; and Eugene Brennan, Los Gatos.

A concerted drive is under way in all telephone company offices along the Peninsula and adjacent cities to have them donate blood at the county bank, 25 South El Camino Real, San Mateo. The plan is being sponsored by officials of the telephone company employees' organization.

3 League Games At Marchbank Sunday

Three games in the Recreation Winter Baseball League series are scheduled for this Sunday on the diamond at Marchbank Park.

A 10 a. m. game will see the Double Rock Eagles compete with the Daly City baseball club.

In a noon competition on the local field, Funston Cavern will play the Scotty's Radio nine.

The city team will take on the Eagles at 2 p. m.

Doctors Puzzled By Egg Shells In Man's Scalp Wound

Traffic and home accidents causing minor injuries to the persons involved were numerous in Daly City during the past two weeks. Police officers played the role of ambulance chauffeurs in many of these cases.

Clinton Conn, 22, San Francisco, suffered lacerations on the back of his head when he fell in the Hilltop Bar shortly after midnight, December 26. He was taken to Junipero Serra hospital for treatment.

A beer can wielded by a hard-hitting, argumentative neighbor spelled police intervention and hospital treatment for Marvin Teeter, 35, Colma, on Christmas night. His lacerated ear was treated at Junipero Serra hospital.

Police provided transportation to the hospital for Charles Torres, 19, 739 Capp street, San Francisco, when a case of glass he was unwielded fell, injuring his leg. The accident occurred December 29.

Mrs. Anna E. Anderson, 55, Yerba Buena, San Francisco, was taken to the hospital for treatment when she fell in her home, injuring her back and shoulder.

Local police officers responded to a call by a frightened mother, and took her two-year-old son to Junipero Serra hospital where a small brass tack he had been playing with was taken from his nose.

Chet Baldocchi, 57, 21 Hillcrest drive, suffered cuts, abrasions, and a badly lacerated chin in a fall at his home. He was treated by Dr. Drees.

A two-year-old Daly City girl was rushed to Junipero Serra hospital at the request of her father, when she broke a finger while playing in her home.

Mrs. Ellen Gray, 135 Albion street, San Francisco, was taken to Junipero Serra hospital for treatment when she fell while attempting to board a municipal bus. She suffered only a bruised scalp.

Frank Joseph Derry, 542 Bush street, was found sitting in a dazed condition in his car, parked in front of the Fat Boy restaurant at Price and Mission streets. He was treated for a badly cut hand, which he said resulted from an accident while he was manipulating a packing case.

Police as well as attendants at Alameda hospital were puzzled by the presence of egg shells in the head wounds of a man treated there. When brought to the local police station, the man said he remembered only that he had made the rounds of Daly City taverns the night before.

Two Pay Fines For Drunkenness In And About Auto

Two convictions of drunkenness in and about automobiles were handed down by Judge William J. Sweeney during the last two municipal court sessions.

Gudrun K. Gormley, San Francisco, was fined $25 when she pleaded guilty. It was her first offense.

Charles Henry Gieseker, 247 Louisburg street, San Francisco, was fined $50 on a plea of guilty to the same charge. Complaint was signed by Officer H. Sundermann. Gieseker was arrested in his car at San Diego avenue and Hillcrest.

St. Vincent de Paul Celebrates 7th Year

The Daly City Conference of St. Vincent de Paul Society, Our Lady of Perpetual Help church, and the San Mateo Particular Council of St. Vincent de Paul will observe their seventh anniversary next Wednesday.

The society, since its inception in France in the year 1833, has been pledged to charity for all, irrespective of race or religion.

CONGRESS AND THE CONSUMER

With Congress getting back on the job we shall undoubtedly have a great deal more talk — with very little action — about the high cost of living. But even this verbosity will be devoted chiefly to blaming somebody for high prices — usually the opposing political party — instead of offering constructive suggestions for combatting such prices.

This being an election year, it is more important from a politician's standpoint to convince the public that his political opponents are responsible for soaring living costs than it is to halt the price spiral. In other words, instead of the two major parties fighting together against the common enemy — high prices — they are fighting against each other. The consumer is caught in the middle.

Each side, of course, claims that it champions the public interest. But neither side has been very convincing. The GOP anti-inflation bill was hardly more than a gesture. It gives the Administration little power it does not already have. On the other hand, the President calls for wide powers to control inflation — the vast Government bureaucracy. The billions spent by it each year — and we refer particularly to the billions unnecessarily spent — pump dollars into the swelling monetary stream without producing goods for those dollars to buy. Inflation is simply an unbalance between available cash and available goods.

Unless, and until, both parties try sincerely to do what they can to solve the living-cost problem from an economic, instead of a political standpoint, they are doing little more than going through the motions.

Neither prices nor the public are being influenced by the political maneuvering in Washington.

ALMOST "DEAD" WRONG

All motorists would do well to consider a letter written by a railroad engineer and published in the Omaha World-Herald. The letter was intended for a young couple who narrowly missed disaster at a grade crossing at Fremont, Nebraska, shortly before Christmas.

Said the engineer: "When you drove your car across directly in front of a speeding passenger train, it was so close that I, in the cab, could see the young girl (your sweetheart, I presume) throw her hands in front of her face and cringe up against you in stark horror.

"If I were that young girl I'd pull away from you, fast. You probably say you love her; I wonder. Those we love we try to protect.

"Wouldn't that have been a nice Christmas present to hand your mother — a broken and battered body. And how do you think that we in the cab of that engine would feel. We don't want to hit you but we are helpless. You and your girl were one second from eternity Sunday, son. If I were you, son, and you too, sis, I'd thank God for that split second.

"I said a prayer when I realized you were going across. Perhaps that's what saved us all. And please, for God's sake, don't try it again."

A point to remember about racing a train to a crossing is this: even if it's a tie, you lose.

CRUMBLING THRONES

The abdication of King Mihai of Romania has trimmed the dwindling number of monarchies in Europe to a mere 10. Since World War I, unemployment in the "king business" has been growing. And World War II added to it considerably. No less than five monarchs lost their thrones in recent years. Umberto of Italy was kicked out in June, 1946, only a month after he had taken over from his father, Vittorio Emanuele. King Peter of Yugoslavia was frozen out by Tito in November, 1945. Nine-year-old King Simeon of Bulgaria was handed his walking papers by a popular vote in September, 1946. King Zog of Albania has been out of work since 1939 when Mussolini moved into that country. And Hungary which was still technically a monarchy was redeclared a republic in February, 1946. Our guess is that the ex-kings sleep better at night than they would if they were still on the job.

S.F. Adult Schools Are Open This Week

A new term began January 5 in most of the adult schools operated throughout the city during the day and evening hours by the San Francisco public schools.

Registration will take place in the individual classrooms throughout this week but regular class work will begin at the opening session.

Classes taught in the adult schools include the following: English and citizenship for aliens; art and crafts; photography; upholstery; commercial subjects; training in the care of dogs; elementary school subjects; floriculture; forums; interior decoration; clothing and millinery; parent education; auto, cabinet, electric, sheet metal, and machine shops; French, German, Russian, and Spanish; lip reading; acting techniques; mathematics; music; navigation; personality development; folk dancing; physical education; history and civics; and special classes for veterans.

To Discuss Changes In Fish & Game Seasons, Limits

A report of changes in the fish and game seasons and bag limits proposed by the State Division of Fish and Game is soon to be under discussion by the Associated Sportsmen of California. All member clubs are to have their representatives at a general meeting to be held in the offices of the Associated Sportsmen, room 832 Pacific building, January 8 at 10 a. m. for the purpose of coordinating the proposals on the angling seasons and limits for the 1948 season.

The A.S.C., largest sportsmen's group in the state with 116 clubs and a membership in excess of 75,000, has until January 9, 1948, to decide whether to go along with the Division on all its proposals or to enter objections with the State Fish and Game Commission. The Commission will hold its first regulatory powers session at the State building in San Francisco January 9 and 10. Final decisions by the Commission will be rendered at a meeting in Los Angeles January 30-31.

In general, the Division's recommendations are for the purpose of having a uniform season in the north and south portions of the state. The dividing line would approximate the Tehachapi Range.

In the north the opening day of trout season for all inland waters would fall on the Saturday nearest May 31 while in the south it would fall on the Saturday nearest May 1.

Bag limits on trout, steelhead and salmon would not change from those of a year ago for the most part, i. e., 15 trout or 10 pounds and one fish; and 3 steelhead or salmon in the aggregate in coastal streams during the winter season. Closing day for the summer would be October 31.

Special cases, such as the Klamath river and other coastal streams, and some lakes such as Almanor, would receive detailed attention for longer or shorter seasons and different opening dates.

The Division also recommends a limit on striped bass be installed at 25 pounds and one fish in addition to present regulations of five fish with a minimum size limit of 12 inches.

Warm water fish — black bass, catfish, and sunfish — would be opened to angling all year around, setting a uniform bag limit on black bass at 10 fish throughout the state.

Duck hunters are warned by the Associated Sportsmen of California to shoot no ducks, geese, or other waterfowl in the vicinity of the Woodland sewage farm. The birds may be diseased and, if eaten, could cause serious illness or death.

More than 10,000 waterfowl have died in the area this year from botulism and other duck diseases due to the biologicals of the Division of Fish and Game attribute to the pollution and low oxygen content of the water at the "farm."

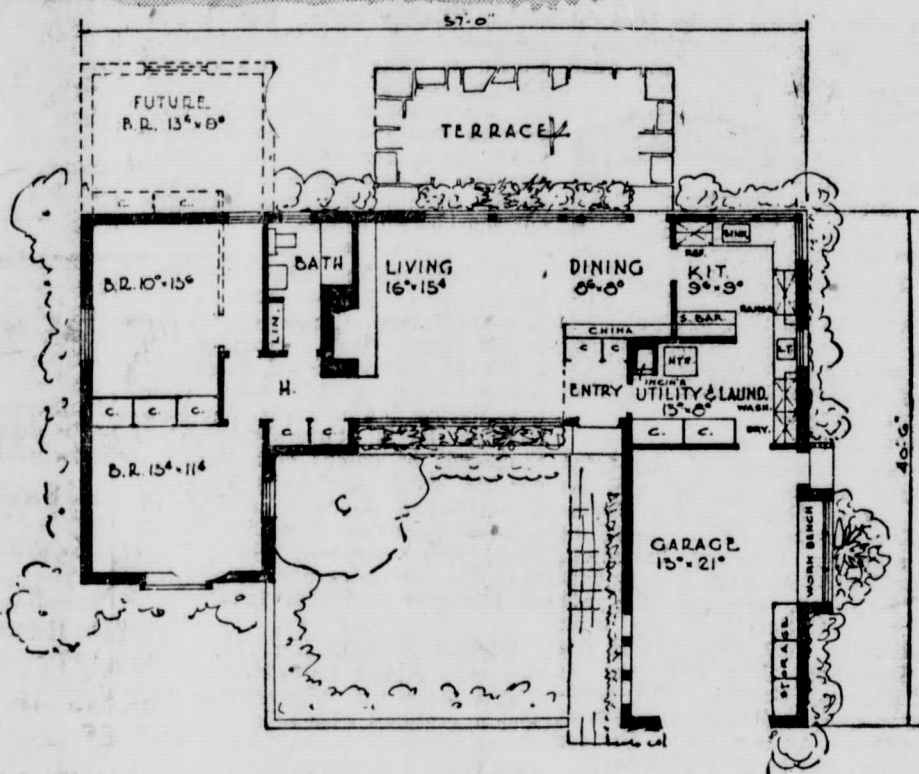

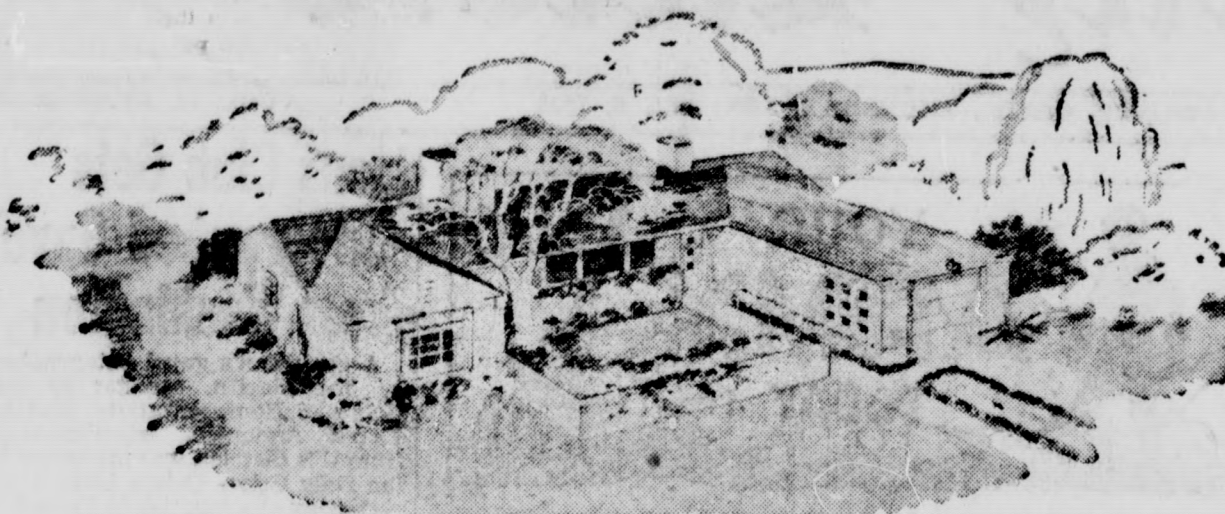

The waterfowl season got under way for the second half of its 28-day period Tuesday, December 23, and will close one hour before sundown January 5, 1948. Shooting hours open at sunrise.

Fish and game notes from here and there. Duck and geese bag limits are four and five per day, respectively; two limits of ducks in possession are allowed after opening day. Quail season continued until one-half hour after sundown December 31 with a bag limit of eight birds per day. Restoring adequate cover, water and feed will provide better upland game bird hunting, according to the Associated Sportsmen, urging its more than 100 affiliated clubs to contact farmers in their areas with such a program of conservation. The anti-pollution initiative petition being circulated should receive the support of all sportsmen, according to the Associated Sportsmen.

FISH

Although fish produce thousands or even millions of eggs every year, only one or two of the offspring may live long enough to reach full reproductive maturity, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Ranch House

The low pitched roof and entrance patio of this U-shaped home is characteristic of the southwest. However, in recent years homes of this type have been spreading over the entire country and popularly called "Ranch Houses". The inviting appearance and domestic quality of this home is very favorable and when combined with convenient living features the scheme for living is complete. Note that arrangements have been made for adding a third bedroom in the plan. It comprises 1170 square feet, excluding garage.

Dwelling shown above is a photograph of a scale model of a "cut-out" home which can be obtained from House Beautiful Magazine for $2.00. The model is easily assembled, and gives the prospective home builder an actual model of the home he plans to build, complete with "cut-out" furniture.

By studying the scale model, the prospective builder is enabled to determine what changes he deems necessary before the house is actually built, thereby saving needless expense. Blueprints and specifications of the dwelling shown above can be obtained for $5 per set by writing House Beautiful Magazine, 572 Madison Avenue, New York City 22, New York.

New Officers Take Seats In Solemn Companions Rites

The new administration of Robin Hood Circle, Companions of the Forest, was seated last Friday in a solemn installation ceremony conducted by Lillian George, deputy grand chief companion.

Lillian Rives, past grand chief companion, was installing marshal. Dorothy Lambertson became the circle's new executive, in the office of chief companion.

Other officers seated were Irene Library, sub-chief companion; Edna Wood Jr., past chief companion; Clelia Forn, chaplain; Lillian Rives, recording secretary; Ida Craig, financial secretary; Antoinette Calderoni, treasurer; Jose-

SNOW FIGHT

There's nothing like having a little snow about this time of the year — even if it has to be manufactured. San Franciscans who can usually expect one or two flakes to fall every tenth year or so, recently found four inches of the stuff right in Golden Gate Park. Of course, it was produced for the occasion — not by the weatherman, but the iceman who did it with ice-crushing and snow-throwing machines. About 50,000 people turned out for the occasion. A program of entertainment was planned. But everybody got to throwing snowballs. Such fun! The iceman was bombarded. The policemen were targets; the entertainers got pelted, and even the firemen who were called to help control the uprising came in for their share of the snow slinging. Finally the entertainment was cancelled and the sprinklers in the park were turned on to melt the snow. Everybody went home — tired but happy. That is, everybody but the iceman, the policemen, the firemen and the entertainers. Anyway, we'll bet the New Yorkers wish they could get rid of their snow so easily.

Local Man Meets Death In Accident On Bayshore Hiway

Funeral services for Louis J. Pelligrini, 31, victim of an automobile-truck accident on the old Bayshore highway early Monday morning, were held this morning from the chapel of the Valente, Marini, perata and Co. Mortuary.

The accident occurred, ironically, just six hours before that stretch of the highway was closed, and the new Bayshore freeway opened for traffic.

The Excelsior district resident, a San Francisco sugar warehouseman, was killed when he fell asleep at the wheel of his car and crashed head-on into a tractor truck carrying two loaded trailers.

The Pelligrini car swerved across the highway into the slow, north-bound lane in which the truck was traveling. Air brakes on the truck were knocked out with the impact of the crash, and the $20,000 truck rolled over into the mud flats just off the highway.

Highway patrolmen said the front end of Pelligrini's car was found imbedded in the front of the tractor truck, while the rest of the vehicle was strewn all over the highway, causing an hour-long traffic snarl.

Pelligrini died almost instantly from a fractured skull and multiple body injuries.

Mission Trails Assn. To Celebrate Centennial Years

In the celebration of California's Centennial Years (1947-48-49-50), it must be remembered that these celebrations are designed only as the anniversary of American occupation, the Gold Rush and Statehood.

Back of these anniversaries lies the Spanish occupation and the pioneering of the Mission Padres, without which the history of California might be entirely different. It is the influence of these two factors that is largely responsible for our present "way of life," which is the envy of the entire world.

For these reasons, the California Mission Trails Association is backing a plan to reenact the trek of Captain Gaspar de Portola from Mission San Diego de Alcalá to Mission San Francisco de Assisi during each of these Centennial years. To add luster to the event, it is planned to keep to the main highways so that all can see the group, and to visit each of the Missions established by the Franciscans. At

Back of these anniversaries lies the Spanish occupation and the pioneering of the Mission Padres, without which the history of California might be entirely different. It is the influence of these two factors that is largely responsible for our present "way of life," which is the envy of the entire world.

For these reasons, the California Mission Trails Association is backing a plan to reenact the trek of Captain Gaspar de Portola from Mission San Diego de Alcalá to Mission San Francisco de Assisi during each of these Centennial years. Our history is one of which we are justly proud, and certainly the reenacting of this epochal journey will do much to revive interest in that history and instruct those who are ignorant of its glories.

It was on July 14, 1769, that Portola, Father Crespi and a handful of leather-jacketed soldiers fared north from their base at San Diego to search for the Bay of Monterey and establish a presidio there. The route they traveled, as emissaries of the Spanish King, was named "El Camino Real" (Highway of the King), and today this route is fairly closely followed by U. S. Highway No. 101 and California State Highway No. 1. Several weeks were required by Portola on this journey, but the group reenacting the trek will take but a week or ten days.

Electric Company Executive Dies Of Heart Attack

A. Emory Wishon, 65, executive vice president of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, died at his Danville country home at 1:15 a.m. last Sunday after a heart attack.

A nationally eminent figure in the public utility field, Wishon was a pioneer in the development of the power industry and a civic and industrial leader in California. He was associated with P. G. and E. and predecessor companies for 38 years and was vice president and general manager of the company during the war years. Last July he was made executive vice president in charge of the company's $350,000,000 postwar expansion program.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the J. N. Lisle Funeral Home in Fresno with Very Rev. James M. Malloch, dean of St. James Episcopal Cathedral, officiating.

Following in the footsteps of his father — the late A. G. Wishon, a distinguished pioneer in hydroelectric development in the San Joaquin Valley and the man who introduced electric water pumping to Central California agriculture — Wishon spent a great portion of his life in Fresno developing the power industry in the San Joaquin Valley.

He organized the Coalinga Water and Electric Company in 1909 and introduced electricity into oil well operations. In 1910 he joined the San Joaquin Light and Power Corporation as assistant general manager in charge of the southern division, from which post he rose to assistant general manager of the company in 1913, and to general manager in 1920. To his duties as such he added the responsibilities of general manager of the Great Western Power Company in 1926 and served in that capacity and also as vice president of both companies until 1930 when control of them was acquired by P. G. and E.

Mr. Wishon served as president of San Joaquin Light and Power Corporation and of Midland Counties Public Service Corporation from 1930 to 1938, when the properties were merged with P. G. and E. He was elected a director of P. G. and E. in 1936, became corporate vice president and assistant general manager in 1938, and was advanced to vice president and general manager of the company in 1943.

He was a director of the American President Lines and a director and president of the Wishon-Watson Company of Fresno. In 1924 he organized the Yosemite Portland Cement Corporation, served continuously as one of its directors, and was its president from 1925 to mid-1943. He served as vice president and director of the Valley Electrical Supply Company continuously from 1914. He was a past president of the Pacific Coast Electrical Association, a former director of the California State Chamber of Commerce, and was director of the board of the Golden Gate International Exposition and chairman of the Exposition's exhibits committee.

He was a member of Sigma Nu Fraternity, a thirty-second degree Mason, and a member of the Newcomen Society. His club associations included University-Sequoia-Sunnyside Club of Fresno, Claremont Country Club of Oakland, Bohemian, Family and Pacific Union Clubs of San Francisco, California Club of Los Angeles, Sutter Club of Sacramento, and a life member of the San Francisco Press Club.

Wishon was born at St. James, Missouri, on July 10, 1882, the son of Albert Graves Wishon and Henrietta Millicent (Emory) Wishon. He received an engineering degree at the School of Mines and Metallurgy, University of Missouri, in 1908. He married Cora Hoen of Fresno on July 30, 1906. The family home is at 284 Mountain View avenue, Piedmont.

Plan Revision And Simplification Of Fishing Season

Sweeping revisions and simplification of California sport fishing regulations, including two May trout season openings for the entire State, are among proposals of the Division of Fish and Game Commission at their January 9 and 10 meeting in San Francisco.

Advocating a May 1 - October 31 trout season for 16 southern California counties and a May 31 opening in northern California, Division Executive Officer Emil J. N. Ott Jr. will also ask the Commission to open certain areas to year-round black bass and spiny-rayed fishing to relieve pressure on trout waters.

Ott said the proposed regulations "mean less confusion, better understanding, better conservation, better enforcement, and fuller use of angling resources." The Commission will hear opinions of sport fishermen at their San Francisco meeting before setting the 1948 regulations January 30 and 31 in Los Angeles.

In letters to sportsmen's groups, the Division's Bureau of Fish Conservation outlined in advance the detailed proposals. They include:

Elimination of the use of districts as a basis of angling regulations in inland waters;

Limiting the taking of salmon and steelhead to three in the aggregate in the northern part of the State generally, and a bag limit of two in most southern waters;

A continued year-round striped bass season, but with a 25-pound and one fish limit. For smaller bass, the five-fish limit would continue as well as the 12-inch size limit.

The proposed May 31 to October 31 northern California trout season would apply to the 42 counties north of, but not including, Mono, Madera, Fresno, and San Luis Obispo counties. Seven different trout season opening dates were in effect last year.

A statewide initiative campaign to expedite full development of the recreational and sports fishing resources of San Francisco Bay and the Sacramento-San Joaquin river areas was opened officially recently in Sacramento.

Directed by the California Fish Conservation Committee, the initiative will close designated inland salmon, steelhead and striped bass waters to commercial netting. Netting is already prohibited in most of the two rivers and other inland California game fishing areas.

The Committee, headed by George D. Difani of Sacramento, president of the Sacramento-Sierra Sportsmen's Council, is composed of representatives of both organized and unorganized sportsmen's groups in California.

Difani said initiative petitions will be placed in circulation early in January. Plans call for incorporating the Committee as a non-profit organization to conduct the campaign in collaboration with supporting groups from the Mexican border to the Oregon line.

The measure was endorsed by the state council of the Associated Sportsmen last April. It carries virtually unanimous support of central California and bay area sportsmen's clubs, who have campaigned for years to halt striped bass "bootlegging" and develop the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers as steelhead and salmon streams.

TELEVISION OUTLET IN EVERY ROOM

The first hotel under construction to include in its blueprints a multi-antenna system for television is the Terrace Plaza Hotel in Cincinnati. It will have video outlets in 350 rooms.

THE RADIO CAN TAKE IT

Don't worry, the yowls you hear when the radio competes with the vacuum cleaner, nearby, are not detrimental to the receiving set in the least. This on the word of electrical technicians.

equalling the famed Smith, Klamath and Trinity rivers.

Preliminary plans for the initiative campaign were unanimously approved at the San Jose meeting of the State Council of the Associated Sportsmen on December 21. Difani announced the committee has selected Charles Bohrmann of Gridley, secretary and past president of the Gridley Rod and Gun Club, as state campaign co-ordinator.

Elks To Receive 42 Candidates In Rites Tomorrow

Forty-two candidates will be initiated into San Francisco lodge No. 3, Benevolent Protective Order of Elks, this Friday evening, January 9, in the monthly ritualistic ceremonial of the local lodge at the Elks' Club, 456 Post street.

Exalted Ruler George Baader will head Elks officers in the initiation rites. A stag dinner party will precede the meeting and ritual, and a buffet supper will conclude the evening's fraternal and social festivities.

San Francisco Elks will be hosts to two trainloads of visiting Santa Barbara members of the order Saturday, January 24, and Sunday, January 25, according to Secretary Arthur J. Mangin. Inter-lodge contests in golf, billiards, bowling, handball and swimming are included in the busy two-day fraternal, social and sports program arranged for the visit of the Santa Barbara Elks.

SOFTWOOD FORESTS

Only half of the world's total forest area is made up of softwood and temperate hardwood forests, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica, yet these forests supply 91 percent of all the timber cut and used. Tropical hardwoods furnish the remaining 9 per cent.

ELECTRIC VACUUM BOTTLE
An electric vacuum bottle, designed to bring a pint of water to a boil in a few moments, shut off automatically and keep liquid a few degrees below boiling indefinitely, is now available.

Motor vehicle owners began lining up early at the San Francisco offices to pay their fees and obtain the tabs which will validate 1947 license plates.

Receipts were issued pending mailing of 1948 white registration cards from Sacramento. The receipts enable the owner to transfer title should he care to sell.

License Tabs Now On Sale; Deadline Set At February 4

California's 1948 silver and red license tabs went on sale January 2 at 76 branches of the Department of Motor Vehicles and California Highway Patrol, in addition to dozens of automobile club offices.

To renew a private passenger car registration, only the 1947 white registration card and fee are required.

Truck, trailer and motorcycle owners were notified through the mail of their fees, and presented their potential registration cards for immediate validation.

The San Francisco office this week urged motor vehicle owners to renew their registrations early, since the largest renewal in the department's history is expected. February 4 is the deadline for payment of fees without penalty.

ANCIENT HANDICRAFT

Plastering is one of the most ancient of handicrafts used in building, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica. Even the dwellings of primitive man, built of sticks, were plastered with mud, and the pyramids of Egypt contain plaster-work at least 4,000 years old which is still hard and durable.

MORE CROPS IN LESS TIME
Agricultural leaders estimate that electrically-operated equipment has enabled farmers to grow a third more crops in 10 per cent less time.

New Styles Merely Onslaught On U.S. Purse, Author Declares

Fashion changes which have brought the radically new styles to the United States are merely another onslaught by foreign designers on the American pocketbook in the opinion of Philip Wylie, noted author, and observer of the contemporary American scene.

And just as long as American women submit to these foreign dictators they can't afford to look down their noses at Ubangi women for inserting a plate in their lip, he declares.

"For modern fashion has become a big business, controlled not by milady's real desire for novelty, her good taste and proper love of ornament, but by a mere commercial greed of the most cynical and exploitative variety," Wylie says in an article in the November issue of Cosmopolitan magazine.

"The world of fashion has one purpose; to make as much money as it can, as fast as possible, from Mrs. and Miss America. Thus, the changing fashions no longer follow cultural tendencies, but, if anything, precipitate such tendencies.

"Designer" is a very good name for those who promote the fraud; they have designs on one thing; America's pocketbook."

Fashion designers who have designs on the American pocketbook have one tried and true formula, according to Wylie, who asserts:

"Each new style has been one that has made milady's extant wardrobe obsolete. Fashion's aim has become to shame American women into constant buying without any real need at all. The technique of mass panic has been morelessly employed, through advertising and high-pressure publicity, to keep the ladies afraid that what they have in the way of clothes is forever too long, short, wide, narrow, plain or ornate.

"Today it is impossible for a woman to be dressed 'correctly' for more than a few months without new clothes."

American women should be bright enough, in Wylie's opinion, to apply the brakes on an exploitation of themselves which periodically makes them look absurd, often injures their health, and constantly sabotages their bank accounts.

"A few new attitudes are needed," he asserts. "First would be a general appreciation of the fact that any dress or garment which is beautiful to wear is always beautiful, faddish or not. Next should come the simple admission that anything which restricts natural functions is both criminal and hideous. Finally the public should perceive that women who sedulously follow fashion today, are, one and all, prize suckers on history's greatest sucker's list."

Extension Courses To Be Varied At UC Annexes

Mathematics, engineering education, parties, politics and pressure groups are among those courses scheduled to open in San Francisco at University of California Extension centers, 540 Powell street and 140 Montgomery street, beginning next Monday.

General classes include folk dancing, both beginning and intermediate, which start Monday and Tuesday. A reading and study service, a guide for the improvement of reading ability, opens Monday; general photography classes begin Monday and Tuesday; a course in The Physics and Chemistry of Photography is scheduled for Wednesday, as is a class of current interest in How To Prepare Your Income Tax Return.

Education classes begin Monday, offering a course in counseling and guidance, the basic principles of a guidance program; public speaking in teaching the principles and techniques of public speaking as they are applied in teaching situations, which starts Tuesday; and vocational counseling of adults, a study of counseling techniques in the guidance of adults and older adolescents, beginning on Wednesday.

Among engineering and mathematics classes beginning during the week are application of diesel engines; trigonometry, and courses in analytic geometry and calculus, all starting Tuesday, and a study of elementary plastics, which opens Wednesday.

Other classes, scheduled to start Wednesday, include How Men Think, a beginners course in the art of straight thinking; the History of Western Social Organization; an analysis of the changing position of the family and community in western society; the History of the United States, dealing with recent developments in domestic policies and the growth of America's interest in world affairs from 1865 to 1948; the History of California, and Countries in the Hemisphere.

Farmers Must File Tax Estimate By January 15

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of two articles prepared by Collector of Internal Revenue James G. Smyth of the First California District outlining the income tax requirements for farmers.

Any person who derives two-thirds or more of his income from the operation of a farm or ranch, either as owner or tenant, is classified as a farmer by the Internal Revenue.

Landlords who receive two-thirds or more of their income from the rent or lease of a ranch in crop share payments, also have all the rights and privileges of preparing their income tax returns as farmers.

Landlords who receive cash for the lease or rent of a farm are not considered farmers.

All persons who come under the Internal Revenue heading, "Farmers," are required to prepare and file an Estimated Declaration by January 15, 1948. This Declaration must be within 66-2/3% of the actual tax liability. The 1947 Estimated Declaration (Form 1040ES) should be used by farmers. The 1948 Estimated Declaration, due by March 15, is filed by business and professional men and women.

Farmers who have all income tax information available, may, by preparing and filing a final return, on Form 1040, eliminate the preparation and filing of a Declaration.

If the Declaration is filed, a final return must be filed by March 15. All tax shown to be due on either the Declaration or the final return must be paid at the time the return is filed.

The utmost cooperation between taxpayers and the Internal Revenue is urgently needed this year to facilitate the filing of tax returns. Owing to an approximate one-third reduction in personnel only 275 deputy collectors will be available in this tax period to assist in the filing of returns. In the 1947 tax period 400 deputy collectors assisted in the preparation and filing of tax returns.

A steady increase in population is expected to set a new high in the number of returns filed this tax period in the First California District.

Unless returns are filed as early as possible last-minute crowds may

January 1, 1900 was not the 1st day of the 20th Century. January 1, 1901 was the day. The year 1900 merely completes the 19th Century. The reason for this is that we write the number of the year before we have had the whole year. Consequently the 19 "100" years or the 19th Century was not completed until December 31, 1900. — (1) Nuggets of Knowledge, by George Stimpson, Page 30. (2) Popular Fallacies, by A.S.E. Enlarged Adult Curriculum Starts At U.C. This Year

The ever-expanding interest of the American people both in the ramifications of their own political scene, and the customs and languages of the countries of Europe and Asia, will be given full opportunity for expression when University of California Extension classes for the spring semester open January 12.

In a class program which offers more than 240 varied courses, University Extension embarks on one of its most ambitious adult education programs to date. Subject range from anthropology to zoology, and give wide coverage to courses of both civic and cultural interest. Classes are held in San Francisco at 540 Powell street, 140 Montgomery street and the San Francisco Conservatory of Music; at 1730 Franklin street in Oakland and on the Berkeley campus.

Over a dozen courses never scheduled before have been added this semester. They include a study of parties, political and pressure groups, the manners and customs in India and Southeast Asia; Russian literature of the nineteenth century; race and culture contacts; the history of western social organization, with emphasis on the changing position of the family and community; international relief and rehabilitation, and the 19th and 20th century novel.

In the field of business administration, courses will be offered in accounting; credit management; investments and finance; marketing, selling, and advertising; personnel administration and industrial relations; real estate; world trade, shipping and finance; economics, and a timely course in How To Prepare Your Income Tax Return.

Architecture, art, the decorative arts, photography, folk dancing, literature, music courses and languages such as Chinese, Japanese, French, Russian, Spanish, Italian, Swedish and German are some of the cultural subjects included in the class catalogue.

Other courses are in the fields of chemistry; dramatics; education; general; civil, electrical and mechanical engineering and mineral technology. In the English and speech departments are courses in writing, both creative and practical; literature; speech improvement and practical speech making.

History; geography; mathematics; philosophy; psychology; political science; public health; a reading and study service; and courses in sociology and social institutions, complete the varied program.

Enrollments in most University of California Extension classes is open to all interested persons regardless of their previous educational training. Class announcements listing specific courses, meeting dates, instructors and fees may be obtained at all Extension centers. First meetings of the classes are open to the public without charge.

A New Food Arrival in Town

By BETTY BARCLAY.

There is cause for cheers in the home-making department! There's a new arrival in the food field! It's a prepared tapioca pudding... now on the market in two flavors, vanilla and chocolate.

Since the ever-popular dessert, tapioca, came back to the grocers' shelves, there has been a natural desire for a prepared tapioca pudding which would save the home-maker valuable time. So these prepared tapioca puddings were developed in the research laboratories of a large food company, famous for prepared gelatin and pudding desserts. Of course, the new arrival, prepared tapioca pudding, has been fully tested by their consumer kitchens for flavor, texture, and ease of preparation. Fully dependable, it's ready for the table in a jiffy. And it's so simple! Just add two cups of milk to the contents of one package... stir it until it comes to a boil, and presto, the work is done. And you have a dessert to serve 4 or 5 people. You'll be thrilled with the rich creamy texture and delicious flavor.

The vanilla tapioca pudding can be served in so many interesting ways. For instance, with fruit—fresh, frozen or canned, it's colorful and tempting. Then with whipped cream, or custard sauce it's a treat indeed!

The new and sure to be popular chocolate tapioca pudding (chocolate is such a universal favorite!)

has many variations, the list being headed by a new recipe for Chocolate Tapioca Pudding Souffle that is perfectly wonderful. It's practically foolproof in preparation for even a brand new cook and it has an "out-of-this-world" flavor and texture. Don't let the word "souffle" scare you. When there's tapioca in the souffle, it's bound to be a success. Here's the recipe. Try this today; you'll love it!

Tapioca Chocolate Souffle

1 package (3 1/2 ounces) prepared chocolate tapioca pudding
2 cups milk
2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
Dash of salt

Turn pudding mixture into saucepan. Add milk and mix well. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. (Mixture will be thin. Do not overcook.) Add egg yolks and blend. Beat egg whites and salt until they will hold up in peaks, but are not dry. Add hot pudding gradually, stirring well.

Turn into greased baking dish. Place in pan of hot water and bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 50 to 60 minutes, or until firm. Serve hot with cream or custard sauce. Makes 6 servings.

Note: For a sweeter souffle, add 1 or 2 tablespoons sugar gradually to egg whites while beating.

One Daily City Man Donates Blood To County

The San Mateo County Blood Bank announced today that one Daily City resident made a donation to the bank last week.

Blood donor was Curtis Klepfer, 322 Hillside boulevard.

"More blood is needed," the bank said, "if we are to continue our indispensable work."

Cal Alumni To Hear University Prexy At Reunion Sunday

President Robert Gordon Sproul of the University of California will arrive in San Mateo next Sunday, January 11, to address local alumni at a breakfast meeting in the Hotel Benjamin Franklin.

Now in his 33rd year as an administrative official on the Berkeley campus, Sproul is completing his 17th year as president of the state institution, second only to the late Benjamin Ide Wheeler in length of service. On his current tour of northern California, he will describe problems resulting from the swollen postwar enrollment and the effect they will have on future education in the state.

He will be accompanied on the tour by Dr. Stafford L. Warren, former medical director of the Manhattan project now dean of the new UCLA School of Medicine; John D. Hicks, professor of history and authority on American foreign policy; Robert Sibley, executive manager of the California Alumni Association; and Lou Stoakes, student yell leader. President Sproul, Sibley and the two professors will be accompanied by their wives.

Reservations for the meeting should be made immediately with John Bromfield, 53 3rd avenue, San Mateo.

Home Made Coconut Candies Rival Confectioners' Finest

If your Christmas budget is in need of help, why don't you plan on home-made candies to take care of gifts to nearby friends? You will find that with a little practice you can make a store of gifts worth many times its cost.

Snowy, moist shredded coconut, like fresh coconut itself, can be relied on to add eye appeal and flavor to your confections. It combines deliciously with chocolate. Chocolate fudge layers with coconut fondant filling make one choice that is sure to bring "ohs" and "ahs" from everybody. And chocolate roll—a creamy French chocolate base formed in a cylinder, rolled in shredded coconut and sliced—is another.

A little practice in making candy will give you confidence and skill. You can flip your chocolate balls lightly into a fluff of coconut shreds, roll them deftly with a fork, knead them up to get firm—and behold!

you'll have candies that vie with those of a professional confectioner. Whether you use conventional Christmas papers and ribbons, or a motif and color scheme of your own, your Christmas bon bons should be neatly boxed, with play of waxed paper to protect them. Then they are ready for the final decorative wrapping.

Chocolate Coconut Balls

2 squares unsweetened chocolate
1-1/3 cups (1 can) sweetened condensed milk
Shredded coconut

Melt chocolate in top of double boiler. Add sweetened condensed milk and stir over boiling water 5 minutes until mixture thickens. Cool for 5 minutes. Drop by teaspoonfuls into shredded coconut. Roll until well-covered with coconut. Let stand in refrigerator for 2 hours. A drop or two of peppermint may be added to part of the mixture to give variety.
